

News

- Harvest 2009

We are now progressing with intake at a reasonable rate, when the weather allows. Oilseed is 75% delivered with good yields and oils contents. Malting barley is 25% delivered. Total store commitment due will be approximately 31,500t and to date 9000t is delivered.

Opening hours are currently 7.00am to 6.00pm for intake with a night shift working 7.00pm until 7.00am to dry and move grain. Please can we reinforce how important it is to book in your loads, as with so many different varieties of barley and wheat expected there are limits as to the tonnage handled in one day. To speed up the intake process it is helpful if your intake paperwork is completed prior to driving on the weighbridge. Any loads arriving without passports and assurance stickers will not be tipped.

- NetworkGrain UK

Delivering provenance, quality and value

Woldgrain Storage will be joining NetworkGrain UK. They are the umbrella organisation for 13 leading farmer owned central co-operatives from across the UK and they secure some of the highest value markets on behalf of its members. All member stores work together to better meet market needs, sharing skills and information, and driving out logistical and operational inefficiencies. For more information visit www.networkgrainuk.com

- Clugston design review

Clugston Construction were at Hemswell on 5th and 11th August to present their initial design and specification to a party of directors and members for the expansion due to start in October. There were vigorous discussions regarding loading and intake times and what the designers need to come up with to meet the future needs of farming practices. The designers are now looking at having 5 intake pits with a capacity of 900t per hour!

- New members

We would welcome to Woldgrain Storage, Limestone Farming, M. Casswell & Hermitage Farms who have recently become members.

---

If you are interested in further storage space for harvest 2010 please contact
Charlotte Collen now on 01427 668741 or send an email to charlotte.collen@woldgrainstorage.co.uk